

I have a question about halaal food.

- 1) Is carp halaal in Islam?
- 2) And what about prawns?
- 3) Is it true 40 makrooh is equal to 1 haram?
- 4) Is it haram for women to use a razor{blade}to clean her private parts ?

ANSWERS

- 1) I think your first question is about carp, which is a fish. That is totally halaal. Prawns are not halaal in the Hanafi math-hab because this is not a fish. In the Hanafi math-hab, only fish among seafood is halaal.
- 2) There is no teaching or law in Shariah that says 40 makrooh equal to one haraam. This is false. Yes, the Shariah says that one commits a minor sin at least three times without making taubah, then that minor sin becomes a major sin.
- 3) A woman is allowed to use a razor to shave the hair around her private parts. This is totally permissible.
